"From now until Monday, Feb. 28, we are encouraging dog lovers to visit www.daredogchow.com and submit a dare of their choice," said Heather Gettys, Purina® Dog Chow® Senior Brand Manager. "It could be anything from building the ultimate dog house to refurbishing a neighborhood animal shelter to organizing a dog walk across the Brooklyn Bridge. If you ever thought, 'I wish Dog Chow would ...' here's your opportunity to see if your idea will come to life."

Purina® Dog Chow® Brand Dog Food will execute three dares – one per month in March, April and May – while awarding each of the three Grand Prize Winners $5,000 and a year's supply of Purina® Dog Chow® Brand Dog Food, as well as a two year's supply of Purina® Dog Chow® Brand Dog Food for one dog donated to a local animal shelter in each of the Grand Prize Winners' communities.

"The Band Perry is a perfect partner for the Double Dog Dare Contest. They are devoted owners of four dogs and, as siblings, they definitely can relate to the challenge of a 'double dog dare'!" said Gettys.

The Band Perry (Kimberly, Neil and Reid Perry) is one of the hottest break-through acts in Country Music. They signed with Republic Nashville in July 2009. Almost immediately, their first single, "Hip To My Heart," became a top-20 hit, followed by, "If I Die Young," which reached #1 on the charts and was certified Platinum for sales in excess of 1 million copies. Their latest, "You Lie" has entered the charts and is quickly becoming another fan favorite. Among the award nominations they've racked up in the past year, they're now nominated for a Grammy for Best Country Song, as well as an ACM Award for Top New Duo or Group. They will tour with Tim McGraw this spring.
